1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claims have been allowed because essentially they recite the apparatus and the method of dispensing a number of folded napkins. In claim 87 there is the stack of napkins in a magazine about a retaining member that is releasably retaining the stack. There is the penetrating of the stack with a metering member where the metering member is between the number of napkins and the remainder of napkins. Then there is providing a relative motion between the retaining member and the metering member to dispense the napkins. Claims 1, 18 and 26 are more specific with the recitations of shelf means, and shutter members..
